PASCAGOULA — The Mississippi Heritage Trust honored Dianne Scruggs of Pascagoula Saturday for her contribution for exemplary rehabilitation of a historic residential property.

The Award of Excellence, presented to the wife of Pascagoula attorney Dickie Scruggs, was for work on the Bellvue-Longfellow House on Beach Boulevard.

The presentation was one of six Awards of Excellence and eight Awards of Merit presented at the closing ceremony on the grounds of the DeLaPoint-Krebs House (Old Spanish Fort).

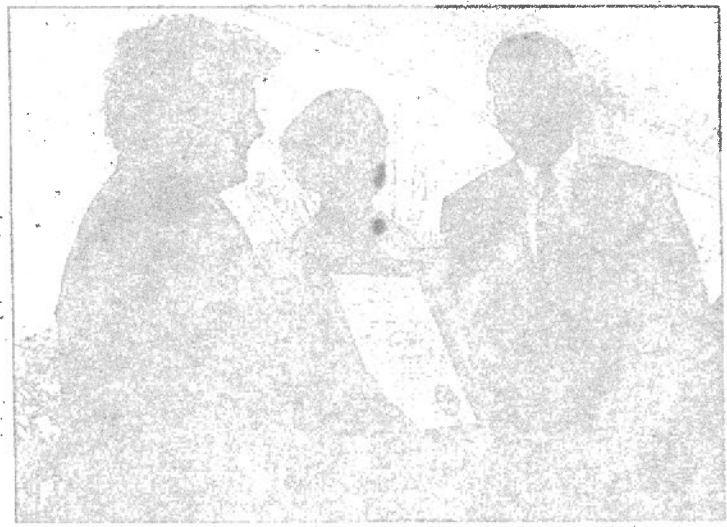

The luncheon and awards ceremony wrapped up the annual Mississippi Historic Preservation Conference that was held Thursday through Saturday at various locations along the Coast.

"I was really so honored and taken back by the award," Mrs. Scruggs said, "because I feel ... to look at it not as a finished product, but a continuing project. There were so many people who helped us with this in the city of Pascagoula. It's been an effort by everybody so I feel like we're all sharing a big day today. I feel that this was a really impressive award."

She said there was probably another two to three months of work on the third floor of the Longfellow House before the project will be completed.

"Pascagoula should be proud," Stella Gray Bryant, executive director of the Trust.

Bryant said attendance at the three-day meeting of the organization exceeded previous conferences and support from the different communities made for a formidable conference.

"Our speakers were exceptional, and the caliber of Heritage Award recipients this year are phenomenal," she said. "This was a pure joy to recognize these projects. I don't know when we've had six Heritage Awards of Excellence."

Bryant said the Coast conference drew more than 150 who were interested in seeing the historical sites of the state recognized and preserved.

The organization statewide has approximately 560 members.

Awards of Excellence went to those involved in work on the following locations: The cathedral of St. Peter the Apostle in Jackson, the Laurel Train Depot, the Oakland Chapel at Alcorn State University, Ventress Hall on the campus of the University of Mississippi and Viking Range Corporation headquarters in Greenwood.

Awards of Merit were presented to those involved in work at the following locations: 405 Waldron St. Corinth, the Clarksdale Freight Depot/Delta Blues Museum, the Gopher Farm Archaeological Site in Wayne County, the Hancock County Bank Building in Long Beach, Mamie's Cottage (the Dupree House) in Raymond, the Meridian Housing I project, the Lincoln House in Columbus and those who helped promote Mississippi Archaeological Work.
